NAVAL MILITIA CRUISE BEGINS SEPTEMBER 14

Ten days from today the Naval Militia of Hawaii will leave for its first annual 15-day cruise aboard the U. S. first-class cruiser St. Louis. In preparation for the cruise drills and special instructions are being given the sea militiamen and all planning to go have been requested to obtain leave of absence from their employers.

Leaving here at 4 p. m. Thursday, September 14, from Navy Pier No. 2, the St. Louis, with the Naval Militia on board, will steam from this port for Waiman, Kaula, to the north side of the island, where the cruiser will anchor for boat drills.

At 6 p. m., September 16, the evening of Beche Day, the cruiser will steam for Honolulu, arriving off shore here at 8 a. m. the next day, Sunday, anchoring outside. A boat will be sent ashore to pick up the naval militiamen who are entered in the races and could not leave September 14.

The cruise will be resumed at 8 a. m., Sunday, September 17, the St. Louis steaming again from Honolulu, this time for Lahaina, Maui, where she will anchor for further boat drills and other exercises.

Leaving Lahaina September 18 the cruiser will steam out to sea for two days and a half, and after that will double back to Hilo, Hawaii, arriving there in time for the St. Louis' officers and crew, and the officers and enlisted men of the Naval Militia to take in the civic convention and county fair, seeing Kilauea volcano during the stay. The stay in Hilo will be two days, from 8 a. m., September 23, to 10 a. m., September 25.

At 10 o'clock Monday morning, September 25, the St. Louis will begin the return trip, reaching Honolulu at 6 a. m., Tuesday, September 26. Then will come the "joyous" task of coaling ship, which will wind up the citizen sailors' work aboard the cruiser.

Coaling and cleaning ship will last two or three days, after which the naval militiamen will step ashore and return to the work of earning their daily bread, while the St. Louis returns to her permanent station, Pearl Harbor.

BIG ISLAND TRAINING CAMP BIDS RUN FROM $21,000 TO $28,000

According to advices from Hilo bids for the construction of the Kilauea military training camp for the National Guard of Hawaii were opened in that city last week, but no awards were made, the trustees of the camp fund intending to announce their decisions at a later date.

Three bidders competed, H. Hackfeld & Company, whose bid was $21,730; Hilo Mercantile Company, $24,965; and Charles H. Will, $28,700.

The plans call for construction of three main buildings as well as an officers' building, latrines and bath-houses, and water storage of 160,000 gallons. Additional expense has also to be met before the camp will be in shape to accommodate the entire regiment of guardsmen it is planned to have there.

Roads will be built to the camp site and the houses, which are to be used chiefly as mess halls, will have to be furnished.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Sept. 4.—Another examination will be held, beginning October 16 next, of candidates of all classes for appointment as second lieutenants. Those legally qualified on date specified will be reported to this office to be authorized to take the final examination as prescribed in general orders 28, 1916, without passing preliminary examinations required by War Department orders. All officers concerned will be notified that care must be exercised in reporting upon qualifications of enlisted men who make application to enter this examination.

The organizations of the command will be instructed in swimming in the swimming tank at Fort Shafter. On Monday the Third Battalion, 2nd Infantry, and D Company, 3rd Engineers, from 7:30 to 11:30 a. m. On Tuesday Third Battalion, 2nd Infantry, and C Company, 3rd Regiment Engineers from 7:30 to 11:30 a. m. and on Wednesday Second Battalion, 2nd Infantry, and the Machine Gun Company, 2nd Infantry, from 7:30 to 11:30 a. m. The commanding officers of Companies C and D, 3rd Regiment of Engineers, and of Machine Gun, 2nd Infantry, will confer with the battalion commanders of the battalion to which they are attached as to the hours for swimming of their respective companies.

By a War Department order, August 16, 1916, Pvt. Benjamin J. Powers, Permanent School Detachment, School for Bakers and Cooks, at this post, having transferred to the Quartermaster Corps will proceed to Fort Schofield and report for duty.

Alterations, both in plumbing arrangements and in the interior of the post exchange restaurant, are being made, in order to make the place not only more attractive but also more convenient for the patrons of the cantonment.

The exact status of retired army officers was stated by the president in his recent veto of the army appropriation bill, and is of interest to the officers of Fort Shafter as well as elsewhere. It is stated in the lucid English of the president as follows: "Regular retired officers are members of the army, are allowed to wear the uniform, are carried on the register, have the good name of the service in their keeping and should be subject to court-martial for breach of discipline under the articles of war."

This clear statement absolutely obliterates any further reflections on the retired army officer as an object of government charity, he remains the same active guardian of the army's good name and honor that he was always, and therefore ought to and does wear the nation's uniform.

Cpl. Curtis T. Kelly of D Company has been promoted to the grade of sergeant, upon the recommendation of his company commander, 1st Lieut. Frederick A. Barker.

The following important decision will be of interest to the officers and organization of Fort Shafter. The announcement has been sent from the war department and approved by the secretary of war.

The commanding officer of the 3rd Field Artillery had requested information as to whether the warrants of promotion in accordance with Bulletin No. 16 of the war department might be dated back to July 1, 1916, and giving his reason, that the order making the appointments was not issued until July 29, although certain vacancies in the grades of non-commissioned officers existed since July 1, 1916, by the National Defense Bill of June 3, 1916.

The reply was made as follows: "It has been held by the comptroller of the treasury that 'Acts of Congress, changing the organization of the army and which of necessity takes time to carry into effect, do not change the status or rights of individuals until the act is carried into effect. The better view is that the old status of individuals remains until the act is carried into effect in the organizations to which they belong.' And the decision further adds in order to make clear the judgment that 'appointments and promotions cannot be antedated, but carry pay from the date when actually made, so that if the promotions or appointments mentioned in these papers, were actually made July 29, 1916, pay would commence from and include that date; if they were made at an earlier date, though announced in orders dated July 29, 1916, pay properly accrues from such earlier date."

This decision is so general that it is far reaching in its results with regard to many questions of pay, that will of necessity arise in the future, hence the great importance of the judgment stated.

Lieut. Frederick A. Barker, who has been confined to his quarters with a severe attack of la grippe, is about again and has almost recovered his usual robust health.

First Lieut. Harry C. K. Muhlenberg, while playing Saturday afternoon in a tennis match on the Moana courts, was so unfortunate as to sprain and seriously injure his ankle. The sprain was all the more serious because the lieutenant caught his foot tightly in the center strap that holds down the tennis net and the weight of his falling body seriously wrenched the muscles. Lieut. Muhlenberg is doing as well as can be expected and with a few days' rest will be about again.

All casuals can be accommodated on the U. S. transport Sheridan, leaving here about September 6. This notice was received from department headquarters.

George A. Owen, Detroit's oldest alderman, plunged eight stories to his death from the Henry Smith building at Detroit.

WATCH SORE THROATS

because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

As Nature's corrector of throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its tested glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion relieves the trouble and upbuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.

If any member of your family has a tender throat, get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion-to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.
